PATENT DRUG NOW USED TO CURE PLAGUE

Tuberculosis Can Now Be Permanently Cured Says Sanitarium Expert

JEANETTE, Pa, May 3—Tuberculosis, which has baffled the best medical men since the dawn of civilization, can be permanently cured, according to Dr William P. Nolan, of this city. He has treated many patients in the last ten years and they have recovered, he told International News Service today Dr Nolan is a regular practicing physician here and chief of the Pennsylvania state tuberculosis clinic of the Westmoreland hospital in Greensburg

"In the past it has been the aim of medical men to treat along lines of prevention, then still later the idea of fresh air, rest and a careful diet was developed," Dr Nolan said, adding "While such treatments may be beneficial, still it is necessary to go farther than that. The disease must be attacked at the seat of origin It is necessary to put a potent drug into the lungs by inhalation By no other means can you attack the disease

"Carbon and other chemicals have a tendency to break up the mucus, dry up the tubercular lesions on the lungs and build a wall around the infected centers preventing the spread of the infection and at the same time eliminating it," Dr Nolan said

Dr Nolan said his treatment deals with pulmonary tubercolosis only.

Fellow members of the Westmoreland county medical society have received the Nolan claims with conservation Dr. Thomas St Clair of Latrobe, president of the society, issued this statement

"As president of the Westmoreland county medical society, I wish to say that claims made by a doctor are absolutely without endorsement of the society and we feel such claims are productive of great harm. The paper on the 'treatment of tuberculosis' as read at a regular meeting of the county medical society was considered by those who heard it as merely an effort to work out a theory."

MEET TONIGHT ON PLAYGROUND MOVEMENT HERE

The Elyria Community Recreation Association will meet tonight at 7.30 in the Council Chambers. Representatives from the Fraternal orders, civic organizations and Parent Teachers Associations will be present and plans will be perfected to assure the continuation of the excellent work started last summer. A community wide program for the year by means of programs in athletics, music, drama and neighborhood social recreation is being outlined

RUTHENBERG FACES 10 YEARS IN PEN; SENTENCE JUNE 4

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., May 3.—Charles E. Ruthenberg, Cleveland syndicalist, who was convicted of having violated the Michigan antisyndicalism laws after a jury had deliberated nearly four hours, will be sentenced June 4 It was stated today the sentence may be imprisonment up to a term of ten years, a $5,000 fine or both.

Ruthenberg, according to reports from jurors, was convicted on the fourth ballot, three jurymen agreeing that the laws had been violated by the Bridgman convention last summer, but announcing themselves not satisfied that Ruthenberg had advocated overthrow of the government. An argument of an hour's duration by other members of the jury, it was said, convinced them.

The jury was congratulated as "all-American" by the prosecutor Ruthenberg probably will appeal

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., May 3—Announcement was made at the prosecuting attorney's office here today that further prosecution of the 32 radicals accused of violating the Michigan criminal syndicalism law would be held up, pending a probable appeal by C. E. Ruthenberg, first defendant to be found guilty.

"We may as well find out now," said the prosecutor, C W. Gore, "just what the Michigan syndicalism stands for."

Ruthenberg and William Z. Foster are the only two of the 32 tried thus far. Foster went free when the jury trying him was deadlocked.

SCHENECTADY, N Y May 3—Police were virtually convinced early today that the kidnapers of Verner Alexanderson, six year old son of Ernest F. W Alexanderson, noted radio engineer, escaped into Canada with the child

Word received from Detective Van Deusen, who went to Ogdensburg last night, is that he believes he is on the trail of the kidnapers Van Deusen rushed to the northern part of the state after the police had learned that an automobile bearing a license plate issued to an Ogdensburg man, and carrying two men and a boy, had been seen near Gloversville several hours after the kidnaping.

State troopers and police are today watching every road along the border line into Canada

So far every clue failed to develop anything materially, but police are almost certain that the kidnaped boy and his abductors are in hiding somewhere in the northern part of the state, if not in Canada

SCHENECTADY, N. Y, May 3—"I saw him, I saw him hungry and tired, wandering through dense woods, groping blindly for the way to home and mother"

Thus Mrs Ernest F W Alexanderson, of this city, mother of six year old Verner Alexanderson, kidnapped last Monday afternoon today described a vision that came to her last night

"My baby boy, my little dodo, will be home again soon I don't know by what means his return will be effected but my trust and confidence has not been shaken," said the mother, despite the fact that her little son has been mysteriously missing more than 60 hours

For three nights the little crib has been vacant, but never once has the mother given up hope that somehow, in some way her child will be broght home to her

"No one but a person who has experienced what I am going through these days can understand my feelings," said Mrs Alexanderson "Perhaps there would be some relief if I would let myself have a good cry, but I must keep up for the sake of my husband and my two girls"

An insight into the wonderful strength of character of Mrs Alexanderson is shown by the fact that the day after Verner was stolen she sent his sisters, Edith 7 and Gertrude 11 to school as usual

"Dodo can take care of himself better than most six year olds, if I do say it myself and I am sure he will try to escape from his captors at the first opportunity," said the mother. "It seems so strange and still in the house and every minute I think that I must hear his little voice calling to me

"What can be in the minds of a person or persons to make a mother suffer the anguish that has been inflicted upon me? I [illegible] that such persons [illegible] known the love of a mother or father for a child"

The Lorain County Sunday School Association closed it's session at Lorain yesterday afternoon by re-electing Rev F L. Eastman, Amherst as president, Peter Becker, of Amherst, secretary, and Dean Burns, of Elyria, treasurer

The meeting of the afternoon was featured by an address by Arthur Rugh, national secretary of the Y W C. A. in China. He declared that China was the key to the orient. Reports were made of the work being done in the various schools of the county, and it was considered that this was one of the best conventions held in some time.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Two shots from the revenue cutter Seneca of the "dry navy" routed the rum fleet, it was reported today from official sources The Seneca brought its four pounder into action while pursuing two rum runners and fired the warning shots across their bows when they did not draw up. As a result of the skirmish the rum vessels have put to sea.

The battle of "rum row" was witnessed by the whiskey bearing boats in the vicinity. As a result of the show of arms, revenue officials reported the rum fleets flagship, the Istar, a British schooner and former yacht of a New York millionaire, pulled anchor and ran away.

The British tanker Warszawa and another large vessel trailed the retiring Istar along with a number of smaller craft of the armada

The two small boats the Senaca shot at surrendered but were allowed to proceed when it was found they had no liquor aboard.

Prohibition Director Palmer Canfield planned to proceed against the rum fleet by air. This afternoon he went to Mitchel Field with assistant U. S. District Attorneys Cassin and Cohen where two planes waited to take them out over the fleet's haunts beyond the three-mile line.

The flight was to demonstrate the value of airplanes in campaigning against rum runners, Canfield said.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Coast guard stations along the Atlantic coast were ordered today to watch for the yacht Istar and other vessels of the routed New York rum fleet.

When revenue cutters opened war against the liquor ships, some of them sailed out to sea, but officials think they will try to put in at some Atlantic port to continue their smuggling activities.

Only meagre details of the wreck had reached this city early today.

A relief train was hurriedly made up here and several nurses and doctors rushed to the scene of the accident, an isolated town with few facilities for caring for the injured

BOOZE PIRATES WORK UNDER SMOKE SCREEN

WASHINGTON May 3—Smoke screens, similar to those employed to conceal naval maneuvers, are the latest things in bootlegging circles.

Whiskey pirates, plying the Washington-Baltimore pike, are using the screens to hide their operations, Edgar N Read, chief prohibition officer, said today They escaped from a prohibition officer by throwing a fifty-yard screen down the pike and later they used it to screen their escape after holding up a bootlegger on the road

The screen apparatus consists of a five gallon can of oil, attached to the exhaust of an automobile. When the oil reaches the hot exhaust pipe it is vaporized into dense clouds of black smoke.

RHEUMATISM Leaves You Forever

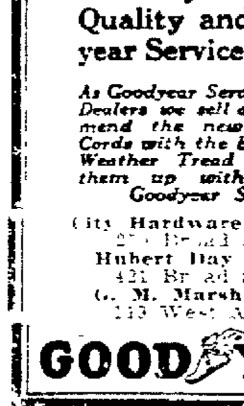

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every Druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenrhu, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenrhu has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allenrhu, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenrhu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. Harry A. Crandall can supply you.—Adv.

THE EDUCATIONAL TREND TOWARD LABOR

The greatest problem of the next few years will be how and where to obtain common labor. American boys are unfortunately educated away from it. Federal regulations forbid its entry in needed proportions. Reviving industry will be handicapped for lack of it. Some time we will as a people have the wisdom to see that we must make all labor dignified. That the workman is as much, if not a good deal more, the man in greasy jeans in the shop than he is wearing a white shirt or stiff collar in a swivel chair. Ninety-nine hundredths of the school training in the land now considers the office its goal and not the shop. Much of our school work does not appeal to the really industrious boy. He drops out and goes to work; the lily-whites go on, get a diploma and poin the gentlemanly tennis group or idles over the golf links.

All necessary labor is wholesome. It should be dignified and trained for in the schools. The gardener and the farmer may be as well cared for educationally as the engineer. The machinist should be as well fitted educationally for his work as the editor or the school master. Recognition of honest labor will eliminate many jealousies—social recognition, educational recognition, as well as pay envelope recognition. And the educational must lead the way. We have got rid of many class and caste distinctions of the mother countries, but we have many milestones yet to pass before we reach the goal of true democracy. When we do there will be less darth of so-called "common" labor.

WHY PERSECUTE THE ENGLISH SPARROW?

Is there a more maligned bird than the little English sparrow? "Is it maligned?" do you ask. It is certainly very much discredited. Now let us note a few of its characteristics. It is omniverous in its appetite, or nearly so. It relishes kitchen crumbs or any vegetable matter that would otherwise go to waste. In other words it is a tiny scavenger, and about the only bird that makes this a practice upon the city streets and and about the kitchen door. It is also exceedingly industrious in running through the leafy trees and picking off the little bugs and worms. This good trait is often overlooked. It is not an eater of berries or fruit to any extent. It does not puncture the ripe grape skins and leave the fruit for bees to suck dry. It's another little sharp-billed bird that does that. The fault is sometimes unjustly charged to the bees themselves. The farmers say sparrows eat grain, and no doubt they do, but the worms they pick up between crops would do the farmer more damage if left undisturbed. They aid the farmer in another way. When the grain is harvested they live through the winter months largely upon weed seeds. They are ubiquitous, they love the haunts of men, and the ornamental (?) niches about buildings and they are as garrulous as a sewing bee. But on the whole are they not the friends of man?

A certain amount of useful labor and responsibility is a benefit to the growing boy or girl. Such labor should be rendered to the family rather than to the community or to a corporation. It makes for mental and physical worth. But child labor in sweat shops, spinning mills, onion fields, or elsewhere if forced, measured out by dollars and cents, made humiliating and depressing, is an abhorrence, is inhuman, is or ought to be un-American. Conditions call for a constitutional amendment that will give the state and city control of all such abominations.

Elyria is not a large city, but the need of more parking space in the business section of the city is imperative. Shoppers are put to great inconvenience by being compelled to leave their cars at long distances from their trading places. The auto is here to stay and the number is increasing each year. Every city is up against the same problem. Some are meeting it in a wholehearted way. Beautiful parkings are being turned over to the needs of the public. It sometimes seems a sacrilege, but utility must win in the end.

Speaking of "safety first" there are two death traps on the south side of the public square that should receive attention from the proper officials. One is directly across from the Y. M. C. A. where the car track runs so close to the right angled curb of the park that a trolley car and an automobile cannot both pass the corner at once. The other is at the Episcopal church corner. It is a wonder that serious accidents have not occurred at one or both places.

Rudy Pfundt bought a new Hudson. That's his business. He told Paul Steger to "Get in and try it out." That afternoon a Hudson salesman from Cleveland had business in the Elyria block and he parked his demonstrator in front of "Rudy's" store. Steger, seeing it jumped in and started to try 'er out." Course Paul's as honest as any cigar man who ever sold a five cent cigar for eight cents, but he had a hard time convincing the Cleveland friend that he thought the car was "Rudy's."

POEMS THAT LIVE

THE YOUNG MAY MOON

The young May moon is beaming, love,
The glow-worm's lamp is gleaming love,
How sweet to rove
Through Morna's grove,
When the drowsy world is dreaming love!
Then awake!—the heavens look bright, my dear,
'Tis never too late for delight, my dear,
And the best of all ways
To lengthen our days
Is to steal a few hours from the night, my dear!

Now all the world is sleeping, love,
But the Sage his star-watch keeping, love,
And I, whose star,
More glorious far,
In the eye that from the casement peeping, love,
Then awake!—till rise of sun, my dear,
The Sage's glass we'll shun, my dear,
Or, in watching the flight
Of bodies of light,
He might happen to take thee for one, my dear.

—Thomas Moore.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

TIMELY VIEWS ON WORLD TOPICS

"BOOM THREATENS TO CAUSE BUSINESS MEN TO FORGET CAUTION," SAYS EXPERT

Analyzing the current business boom, Wesley C. Mitchell, director of research of the national bureau of economic research, in the news bulletin of the bureau, states that the present outlook is bright—"indeed so bright that one's fears are mainly fears that the business public may presently lose that cautious spirit which is the best safeguard against the return of overbuying and inflation."

"All observers agree that business as a whole is now highly prosperous," he says. "The revival, which may be dated from the summer of 1921, made slow progress for about a year in the face of most discouraging conditions. By the autumn of 1922 it had acquired considerable momentum, and the pace has quickened notably in the last eight months.

"Production has reached again the high records of 1920, and complaints of unemployment have been succeeded by complaints of labor shortage.

"All this looks highly regular and suggests that we are soon to have a "boom" with all the standard trimmings and the standard ending. But there are, as always, exceptional features in the present business situation which will make the boom more or less different from previous periods of the sort:

"1. The extraordinary strength of the banks would make it possible to carry speculation to great extremes before the dwindling of reserve ratios called a halt.

"2. On the other hand, the recollections of the disasters of 1920-21 are first in the minds of business men and bankers, many of whom are preaching a wholesale caution. The fact that there has been no runaway speculation in stocks may be taken as a symptom that the business public is not dazzled to the same degree as usual at this stage in the cycle.

"3. The restrictions upon immigration make it probable that the prices of labor will rise relatively high. The results both on profit margins and on the volume of retail demand may have a powerful effect upon the course of the cycle.

"4. Recent reports from Great Britain indicate that the boom, which has so far been a home-made affair, may presently receive a further impetus from abroad.

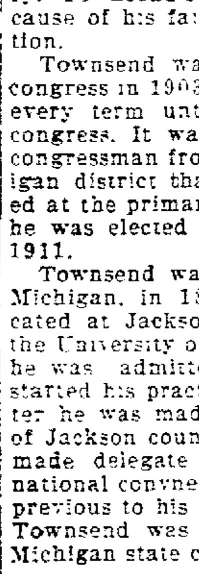

"5. If 1923 proves to be a tolerably good year for the farmers, the prosperity of business will be still further enhanced this autumn."

Mitchell had charge of the preparation of the report on business cycles and unemployment for President Harding's unemployment conference.

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAY'S NEWS

CHARLES E. TOWNSEND

Charles E. Townsend, former United State senator from Michigan is being prominently mentioned for appointment to the international joint commission to succeed Obadiah Gardner of Maine, who has resigned. It is understood that Mr. Townsend's friends are enthusiastically backing him for the place on the American section of this commission, which has jurisdiction over American Canadian boundary waters.

SEN. TOWNSEND.

Mr. Townsend attracted attention when, as senator, he championed the cause of Senator Truman H. Newberry in the fight waged to unseat Newberry. Townsend's stand was the cause of his failure to win re-election.

Townsend was first elected to congress in 1903 and was re-elected every term until the sixty-second congress. It was while serving as congressman from the second Michigan district that he was nominated at the primaries for senator and he was elected on January 18, 1911.

Townsend was born in Concord, Michigan, in 1856. He was educated at Jackson high school and the University of Michigan. In 1895 he was admitted to the bar and started his practice in Jackson. Later he was made register of deeds of Jackson county and in 1888 was made delegate to the Republican national convnetion. For four years previous to his election to congress Townsend was a member of the Michigan state central committee.

The Japanese religion demands that a man must worship "on the soil" every day. Princes and rich men evade this by sprinkling a little dirt in one corner of a room, sometimes on a square of cement made for the purpose.

W. W. PICKET IS KILLED IN LUMBER CAMP

SEATTLE, Wash., May 3.—The first fatality in the strike of 30,000 lumber workers was reported here today from Aberdeen where an unidentified I. W. W. picket was shot and killed by a bay city mill strike guard. About 25 persons witnessed the shooting.

Remember I want to hear the famous Lenz Orchestra at Century Park tonight. Don't forget.

DICKERSON AND DAY TIED IN GUN SHOOT

Dickerson and Day were a tie for first honors at the Gun Club shoot at Pasadena park yesterday afternoon. A high and variable wind made it hard for the sportsmen to hit the elusive clay pigeons as they were thrown from the trap, and this kept the scores below the usual average. The following scores were made at fifty targets:

Day, 40; Dickerson, 40; Wadsworth, 36; Hollingsworth, 36; Findley, 32; Jefferson, 29; Smith, 24.

Shooting at 25 targets, Dr. Jackson made a score of 13 and Laudon made 11.

BROWNHELM, May 3.—The E. H. Ladrach home has been quarantined as Fern Ladrach has the scarlet fever. It is reported to be a very light case.

The county nurse spent Tuesday and Wednesday at the school examining the pupils. It is reported that a few were found to be "scaling" and sent home having had it so lightly no one was aware of it. It would seem to be the duty of all parents to watch the condition of their children very closely and if finding any signs of their not feeling well to keep them at home until sure of the cause.

Dr. and Mrs. Clayton Shotton and son of Lakewood were guests at the John Shotton home Friday to Monday. Dr. Shotton bought and installed a raido for his parents.

Fred Gessner suffered a broken rib recently when kicked by a cow.

Quarantine has been lifted from the John Herkler home. Four of the children have been ill with scarlet fever.

Fred Miller of Lorain spent several days last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Dreschler and family.

Mrs. F. W. Brandau called on Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Brandau of Birmingham Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Buzzard and family of Lorain, were Sunday guests at the T. W. Buzzard home

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Cook and family Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. Albert Parsons and son Harold and Mrs. Edna West of Oberlin.

The Chapin farm has again changed hands. The new owners moved here Saturday.

Mrs. Clayton Stevenson spent the week end with her sister Miss Elizabeth Hahn.

GRAND JURY TO PROBE CINCINNATI BROKERAGE

CINCINNATI, May 3.—With no previous hints that such action would be taken and with no intimation as to the cause of the sudden order, the U. S. grand jury was summoned to meet today by federal Judge Smith Hickenlooper, at the request of Haveth E. Mau, assistant district attorney. The jurors are notified to be ready for work Monday. Inexpensive Method of Reducing Dangerous Swollen Veins at Home

Doctor's Recent Discovery, Also Heals Ulcers, Boils, Carbuncles, Abscesses and Open Sores in a Few Days.

The world progresses. To-day ailments that took weeks to cure can now be ended in a few days. If you have varicose veins or bunches you can start this today to bring them back to normal size, and if you are wise you will do so.

Just get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil at any dispensing pharmacist and apply it night and morning to the enlarged veins. It is very powerful and penetrating and only a little is required.

After a few days' treatment the veins will begin to grow smaller and by regular use will soon reduce to normal.

Moone's Emerald Oil besides being one of the most powerful of antiseptics capable of destroying the most pernicious germs and the poisons caused by them, is also a marvelous healing agent.

One application for instance stops the itching of eczema, and a few applications causes the eruptions to dry up, scale off and completely disappear. It is equally as effective in barber's itch, salt rheum, redness and inflammatory skin trouble

People who want to reduce varicose veins, wens or goitre, or get rid of eczema, ulcers, boils, abscesses or piles in a few days should not hesitate to get a bottle at once. It is so powerful that a small bottle lasts a long time. Any pharmacy can supply you.—Adv

Did Wife's Work, Suicide Claims

CINCINNATI, May 3.—After grooming himself as though for the greatest event of his lifetime Gustav Krupp, 55, Jackson and 13th streets, hanged himself in a garage of which he was foreman.

Krupp had visited a barber shop for everything offered there, dressed in his best garments and written a note which read

"Gus Krupp is my name. Say this for me. No good woman is good only for money. I cooked and washed dishes and did everything I could to make it easier for her."

So fearful was he that he might reconsider his suicidal decision that he formed a slipknot to bind his hands as he stepped from the box on which he stood while adjusting the noose.

A truck carrying ice in making the detour on the West Ridge road dumped or lost a number of large pieces of ice by the roadside which were utilized by the half dozen thrifty housewives near by in making ice cream, which they felt partly compensated them for the extra dust made by the extra traffic on their cinder road by the detour.

Grand—"Grumpy" the delightful stage play has been placed on the screen. The character of "Grumpy" is played by Theodore Roberts, whose "Uncle Josh" in "The Old Homestead" stands as one of the great screen triumphs of the day. It deals with the love affairs of a young couple. A diamond is stolen and "Grumpy" runs down the thief. It is a pretty story all the way. Also Buster Keaton in "The Frozen North."

Colonial—In "Crinoline" crinoline and poke bonnets add a peculiar charm to the picture. Viola Dana takes the part of a demure Southern girl who finally breaks away from her sheltered surroundings and gets out into the world where she sees things, and does not go back until she has enamoured the hearts of two young men. The romance that develops makes the story a fine one, well worth seeing.

American—Last showing of "Your Daughter's Sake" today. Friday, Dolores Cassinelli, the cameo girl in "The Hidden Light." This is the story of a blind girl and a tragedy in which the wrong man is accused of killing another in the presence of the blind girl. She did not see the murderer, but testifies that the man arrested did not commit the crime. Finally the real murderer shakes hands with her and she identifies him at once. The man becomes nervous and attempts to escape but is arrested at the railroad station, and the innocent man is released.

Dreamland—"The Devil's Dooryard," another western drama. The public never seem to tire of this class of pictures, and this is one of the very best. In addition is a funny comedy called "Poor Fish."

CINCINNATI, May 3.—"If he's game enough to protect his pal, I'm going to tell the truth and so up with him," said Roland Ross, 21 years old, in a confession today to detectives that he had to looting of a dry cleaning establishment. He had heard the confession of Gilbert Simmonds, 20, who failed to incriminate Ross.

One-half of the section is intact—the other half carefully cut away to show you clearly what goes into these better tires—and why you get more miles out of them.

The tough, wear-fighting tread with extra broad, extra flat surface—

—the beveled buttresses that greatly reinforce the tread blocks—

—the liberal plies of heavily-gummed long-staple cotton cords that form the sturdy carcass—bead, breaker-strip, tough side-walls—all are "open for inspection."

Come in. See the cross-section. Let us explain the big features originated by Lancaster. When you see how these better tires are built—when you fully understand their greater-mileage construction—you'll be ready to give Lancasters a trial.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT, IS FIERY, ITCHY OR ROUGH, USE SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at and dry Store.—Advt.

"The Feast of Little Lanterns" To Be Given Friday, Saturday

The Girls' Glee Club of the High school will give "The Feast of the Little Lanterns," a Chinese operetta, on Friday and Saturday evenings, May 4th and 5th, at 8:15, with a matinee Friday afternoon for the grade school children.

There are snappy choruses sung and acted by 40 girls, in a Chinese garden. "The Feast of the Little Lanterns" is an annual event in China and is always the scene of much gaiety and joy.

A surprise for the Princess comes in the form of a Japanese juggler girl, who entertains with her many tricks. Two Japanese solo dances are to be given by Coral Lewis and a Chinese dance by Alice Smith.

The Royal Princess is very charming; Wee Lung, the little maid, is most devoted to the princess, but gets into all kinds of trouble; and the governess who thinks all naughty children should be terribly punished is clever.

MY HUSBAND'S LOVE

Adele Garrison's New Phase of

Revelations of a Wife

Copyright 1923 by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

The News Dicky Diplomatically Broke to Madge.

Oh! What was that?"

I raised my head from Dicky's arm, purposely simulating startled rousing from sleep at the sound of the slamming door, and Mrs. Marks's noisy humming progress down the hall.

"Only that female chimpanzee next door rolling in from her 'marketing expedition'," Dicky's voice imitated that of Mrs. Marks a few hours before with ludicrous fidelity. "I'll bet she's acquired an extra package besides her groceries."

"It sounds that way," I acquiesced promptly with a little twinge of conscience, for I knew that my flamboyant neighbor's slam of the door and noisy humming were not signs of intoxication, but signals to me that at last her frightened vigil in my darkened kitchen was ended, and the coast was clear. But I guessed that she infinitely would prefer Dicky's surmise to his knowledge of the truth, and I elaborated a bit on my answer.

"Poor thing!" I commiserated, with a demure note in my voice. "I think I'd acquire a 'package,' too, if I possessed a husband like hers."

"What! No 'Nice Petey'?" Dicky's voice expressed the utmost astonishment. "Why, I gathered that Petey was the snake's shins in the neighborline, and that your sociological mind intended to make——"

"Do shut up," I retorted, laughing saucily up at him, "and let me go to sleep. I was almost off when Mrs. Marks began her solo."

"You Know You've Won."

"I know it, darn her hide," Dicky said resentfully.

"But she didn't do any real harm, for I am really sleepy now," I argued. "And I feel so much better, the pain is all gone. So if you'll just fix this pillow and open the window and turn off the light, you can go back to your own room with a clear conscience for I shall be asleep inside of two minutes. Thank you so much, dear. Good night. And in the morning I'll start hunting another apartment. Truly, I will."

Dicky looked down at me, a queer dancing light in his eyes.

"What a consummate little fraud you are!" he said with a distinct note of admiration in his tone. "You know you've won this argument, hands down, yet you pass me a piece of unadulterated bunk like that. Nay, nay, Little One. I hope I know when I'm licked, and the timekeeper counted 10 quite a while ago before you got this indigestion thing, even. You see, every word of your lecture tonight was gospel truth, only I was too mulish to admit it. We'll stay right here, only lay off the Marks family as much as you decently can. I know you can't ignore 'em entirely, but——"

"I'll try not to have them to dinner more than once a week," I returned demurely.

An Amusing Missive.

"Well, I suppose I'll have to be content with that," he countered. "Good night, sweetheart."

"Good night," I murmured sleepily, and indeed I was sound asleep by the time Dicky had reached his own room.

It was broad daylight when I awoke the next morning.

Indeed, so bright were the rays of the sun streaming in through the windows fronting the street that I looked at my wrist-watch and found that it was almost 11 o'clock. There was no sound from Dicky's room and I was just about to call him when I espied a large piece of heavy drawing paper folded into a cocked hat perched on the telephone receiver.

I jumped out of bed with an anticipatory little smile, for my artist husband delights in sending me whimsical messages. Unfolding it, after I had snuggled down in my pillows again, I found a gorgeous colored cartoon of Dicky and me, I, with hand under my cheek, was lying on a couch, apparently sound asleep. From my open mouth there issued a succession of Z-Z-Z-Z's, while above me Dicky was ringing a huge bell, and holding an alarm clock close to my ear. Beneath it, in Dicky's characteristic chirography, were the words:

"You were so absorbed in the lumber business when I awoke this morning that it seemed a pity to waken you. Therefore, I went out to breakfast and on to the studio. Give me a ring when you wake up, and we'll discuss the best place for dinner tonight. Always yours, D."

I laughed tenderly over the missive, looked it over again, then jumped out of bed, slipped on my mules and negligee, and hurried to the telephone. But even before I reached it, its bell rang shrilly, and taking down the receiver I heard Dicky's voice squabbling with the operator over the slowness in getting our number.

REV. KINGSLEY ADDRESSES FIRST CONGREGATIONAL WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION

The Woman's Association of the First Congregational church, listened to a timely and interesting talk yesterday at their meeting when Rev. H. M. Kingsley spoke on "The Bright Side of a Dark Subject." Rev. Kingsley, a graduate of Yale, has had wide and varied experiences working with his people. He pointed out several ways in which the Negroes are assets to a community: (1) Allies in various forms of pioneer life. That is whenever any new adventure is undertaken the negro always stands as first aid to the white man; (2) his power to see the humorous side; (3) his religious fervor and faith. As director of Negro Migrant work, Rev. Kingsley sees the great need for more trained leaders and for better equipment to carry on social and religious work. He spoke in highest terms of the work of the Home Missionary schools in the south.

His vision is full of hope and he believes that when the principles of Christianity are really applied the [illegible] side will become a reality. His address was a scholarly and [illegible] interpretation of [illegible] [illegible]

Saturday night, May 5th, Cesar Franck's Beatitudes will be sung by the Oberlin Musical Union, with a chorus of 250 voices, the largest chorus in this country. The Union will be assisted by the following New York soloists: Nevada Van der Veer, the well known oratorio singer. Mme Van der Veer is a mezzo contralto and has a voice of great range of expression and remarkable control. Intelligent interpretation and excellent diction make her work in oratorio specially attractive. Fred Patton is one of the best bass singers in America. He has a long record of success as soloist of the New York Symphony Orchestra. Judson House, tenor, has sung with the New York Oratorio Society, at the St. Louis Pageant, the Worcester Music Festival, and has been very successful in general concert tour.

The management of the Oberlin Festival announces the largest and most carefully trained chorus in the United States. All in all, the presentation of the Beatitudes should be an event of outstanding importance in the musical life of Ohio.

cannot hope ever to become strong and well again unless they have plenty of good, rich, red blood of the kind that organic iron—Nuxated Iron—helps make. Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on iron filings. Nuxated Iron does not injure the teeth nor upset the stomach; it is an entirely different thing from ordinary metallic iron. It quickly helps make rich, red blood, revitalize wornout, exhausted nerves and give you new strength and energy. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using it. At all druggists. Beware of substitutes. The genuine has N. I. stamped on every tablet. Always insist on having the genuine.
